Chapter 6.16 NUISANCE ANIMALS

Sections:

6.16.010 Nuisance animals prohibited.

6.16.020 Nuisance animal defined.

6.16.030 Abatement of nuisance animals.

6.16.040 Control and fencing.

6.16.050 Female dogs in heat.

6.16.060 Possession of potentially dangerous animal.

6.16.070 Possession of dangerous animals.

6.16.080 Failure to confine potentially dangerous animals.

6.16.090 Animals at large prohibited.

6.16.110 Staking animals improperly on enclosed premises.

6.16.120 Animal waste.

6.16.010 Nuisance animals prohibited.

All persons having custody of an animal shall exercise proper care and control of his or her animal in order to prevent it from becoming a public nuisance. Any owner or possessor of an animal who keeps such animals contrary to the provisions of this title shall be guilty of a Class B misdemeanor and subject to punishment under authority of this title. (Prior code § 6-20-4(A))

6.16.020 Nuisance animal defined.

An animal shall be deemed to be a public nuisance if the animal:

A. Causes damage to the property of anyone other than its owner;

Title 6 ANIMALS

- B. Causes unreasonable odors;
- C. Causes unsanitary conditions;
- D. Barks, whines, howls or makes other disturbing noises for an extended period of time;
- E. Chases vehicles;
- F. Has been impounded for being at large, or its owner or possessor has been convicted for the animal being at large on three separate occasions within a twelve (12) month period; or
- G. Is an animal previously declared potentially dangerous or dangerous and is found in violation of restrictions placed on that animal by the animal control department. (Prior code § 6-20-4(B))

6.16.030 Abatement of nuisance animals.

When it reasonably appears to the animal control department director that any animal is a public nuisance as defined in this chapter, and that such nuisance should be abated, the director shall first attempt to obtain the written consent of the animal owner to abate the animal. Abatement shall be designed to include either relocating or euthanizing the animal. If the animal's owner's consent cannot be readily obtained, the animal control department director may file with the governing court a charge of maintenance of a public nuisance. The charge shall set forth the facts according to the best of the director's information and belief, indicating that the owner is maintaining a public nuisance, and the nuisance should be abated. Until such time as the owner may be summoned to appear before the court, the animal(s) may be taken into impound by the animal control department and held there pending a decision by the court. If the charge is denied, a hearing will be set pursuant to the normal procedures of the governing court. If the court finds that the charge of maintaining a public nuisance has been proven, the court shall issue an order to the animal control department setting out the method of abatement. Abatement by relocation shall not be an option if the animal represents a continuing threat of serious harm, such as in the case of a vicious dog. If relocation is ordered, the court may set whatever conditions are necessary to guarantee that the animal shall not constitute a nuisance in the future. In the event the court determines that in fact the animal is a public nuisance, the owner shall pay the cost of all impoundment fees, maintenance fees, or any other fee that may incur as a result of such impoundment. (Prior code § 6-20-4(C))

6.16.040 Control and fencing.

- A. It is unlawful for any person owning or having the custody, possessions or control of any animal of a class of livestock to allow, either negligently or with specific intent, the animal to run at large in or about a public property or roadway, when such is not permitted by law, or to otherwise permit the animal to herd, pasture, or go upon the land of another without permission.
- B. All fencing of property where a class of livestock are kept shall be of sufficient construction to prevent the escape of or injury to the animals being confined within the fencing. The fencing shall be maintained so that no part of the fence, absent extraordinary circumstance, may be broken, damaged or in any way create the possibility of injury to the confined animal or to allow the escape thereof.

C. Failure to properly confine any class of livestock shall constitute a violation of this chapter. (Prior code § 6-20-4(D))

6.16.050 Female dogs in heat.

Any owner or person having charge, care, custody or control of any female dog in heat shall, in addition to restraining the dog from running at large, cause such dog to be constantly confined in a building or secured enclosure to prevent it from attracting by scent or coming in contact with other dogs and creating a nuisance, except for planned breeding. (Prior code § 6-20-4(E))

6.16.060 Possession of potentially dangerous animal.

Any person who owns or maintains a potentially dangerous animal shall use all reasonable means at his disposal to restrict the animal from injuring any other person or animal. The animal control department may, at the discretion of the director or his or her authorized agents, periodically impose specific restrictions regarding the housing of potentially dangerous animals. (Prior code § 6-20-4(F))

6.16.070 Possession of dangerous animals.

Any dangerous animal, while on the owner's property, must be securely confined indoors, or in a securely enclosed and locked pen or structure, designed to prevent the animal from escaping and to prevent the entry of young children. Such pen or structure for a dangerous animal shall have secure sides and top and shall also provide protection from the elements for the animal. The structure shall be such that the animal cannot burrow or dig under the sides of the enclosure.

B. Dangerous animals, when outside the proper enclosure, must be under immediate control of a responsible adult by means of an adequate restraint device as defined herein. During those times, the animal shall be muzzled so in such a manner that it will not cause injury to the animal or interfere with its vision or respiration, but shall prevent it from biting any person or animal.

C. The director of animal control or his or her authorized agents may take into immediate possession any dangerous animal if the officer determines that the animal:

1. Is not maintained in a proper enclosure;
2. Is outside of the dwelling of the owner, or outside of a proper enclosure and not under physical restraint of the person; or
3. Has violated prior legal restrictions placed upon the animal by the animal control department as provided in this title. (Prior code § 6-20-4(G))

6.16.080 Failure to confine potentially dangerous animals.

Title 6 ANIMALS

No animals are to be staked along public roadway easements. (Prior code § 6-20-4(K))

6.16.120 Animal waste.

The person having custody of an animal shall be responsible for the immediate removal of any excreta deposited by his or her animal on any public walk, recreation area, or private property other than that belonging to the owner of the animal. (Prior code § 6-20-4(L))

A. If the animal control department director, his or her assistants, or authorized agents determine, as a result of witnessing an incident, that an animal is potentially dangerous or dangerous, and find that the animal is in violation of such restrictions as the department deems necessary for the safety of persons and/or animals in the community, the department may declare the animal to be a vicious animal. The animal control department, including any officers or agents thereof, are authorized to immediately take possession of the vicious animal and place the animal in a proper quarantine facility. B. A proper holding period for any vicious animal shall be five working days.

In the event the owner or custodian of the vicious animal fails to request in writing a formal hearing within the five-day holding period, the animal control department is authorized to destroy the vicious animal in a humane manner. This holding period shall be extended to meet state and local quarantine regulations for any animal needing to be evaluated for rabies.

C. Any owner or custodian who files a written request shall be afforded a hearing before an independent board. This board shall be selected by the animal control department and may include a representative from the city wherein the vicious animal resides, a representative from a local humane organization other than the animal control department, and another person randomly selected. It shall be the responsibility of this board to determine whether the animal should be returned to its owner or custodian or be destroyed.

D. At any hearing under this section, the animal control officer who declared the animal a vicious animal shall appear and testify under oath regarding the facts which led to the required findings. The animal control officer shall be subject to cross examination of the animal owner, custodian or his or her authorized representative.

E. The animal control officer may also present any additional evidence or sworn testimony supporting his or her decision.

The owner or custodian of the animal may likewise present evidence or sworn testimony in support of his or her position.

This hearing shall be informal, but will be recorded.

F. The animal control department director shall not order the destruction of the allegedly vicious animal until a decision is rendered, and the animal control department is notified of the decision in writing by the hearing board. (Prior code § 6-20-5(E))
